

Zermatt, June 2015

Pure enjoyment at the new CERVO Puro

A new name, a new interior, a new menu and a special changing weekly – with its completely renovated CERVO Puro restaurant, Zermatt’s CERVO Mountain Boutique Resort invites you to enjoy gourmet holidays at the foot of the Matterhorn.

For six years now, the CERVO has been drawing visitors from all over the world to Zermatt. Against an impressive Alpine backdrop, it combines the relaxed charm of a hunting lodge with a meticulous attention to the comfort of its guests. At the Mountain Boutique Resort, good taste is writ large right across the board – and lately it has even been given an upgrade. Boasting 14 Gault-Millau points, the CERVO’s own Casual Fine Dining Restaurant shines with a fresh brilliance, and it has also been rechristened. Now the CERVO Puro, its renovated interior and tempting but unpretentious cuisine are going to make an impression.

The CERVO decision-makers have redesigned the premises of their culinary flagship in modern style, based on a muted colour scheme. Cushions, curtains and upholstery in natural tones, together with lamps from the classic French lighting specialist Gras, reinforce the chosen stylistic message. The new design gives the restaurant a cosmopolitan touch, without losing anything of the atmosphere of the cosy mountain chalet.

As for the cuisine, the new CERVO Puro continues to rely on its proven strengths. The restaurant serves mainly regional and sustainably sourced products. Whether guests choose to go for one of the weekly alternating set menus, or prefer a classic dish from the small but beautiful à la carte list – the in-house recipes will impress them, combining a native Alpine character with Mediterranean influences.

Contact for media enquiries:

Daniel F. Lauber

CERVO Mountain Boutique Resort | Riedweg 156 | 3920 Zermatt

cervo.ch | daniel@cervo.ch | Tel. +41 27 968 12 12 | Mobile +41 79 268 12 12