CERVO launches Alpine co-working

Work whilst on holiday? You definitely can! CERVO is now offering co-working places in the Ferdinand restaurant during the week. The packages include snacks as well as modern infrastructure. And inspiration is a free extra with the view of the Matterhorn and the incomparable mountain landscape.

A change of scenery clears the mind, leaving space for the essentials whilst inspiring creativity. So why not combine work and pleasure and swap your desk for a couple of days or hours for a place in the CERVO Mountain Boutique Resort's co-working space?

The chic Ferdinand restaurant serves its regional specialities in the garden during the summer and converts its lounge into a meeting place for inspired work. Hospitality is also the top priority, with the Ferdinand crew providing a foodie corner to tide peckish creative co-workers over, as well as the necessary infrastructure.

Conversations with like-minded people and an unparalleled view of the surrounding mountain landscape will be your source of inspiration. And, with the Matterhorn looking over your shoulder while you work, you will no doubt be hit by a flash of genius in no time.

Co-working packages are available from CHF 22 per hour or CHF 56 per day and can be combined with other offers. You can find more information at www.cervo.ch/en
